It has never been part of my nature to prey on the gullible, the desperate, the infirm and the vulnerable because I have something which they need to get on with their lives – well perhaps the gullible, the desperate and the infirm, but hey, no one is perfect.

Having railed against the charlatans of the medical, food, pharmaceutical and automobile industries I am not about to swell their ranks by ripping anyone off.

So I can't charge a small fortune for my stuff.

However, I can't give it away either.

Apart from the historically established, lack of commitment from the recipient, I require the money for other noble work.

Publisher's note.

What you will read here you might think is 'old hat'.
When the writer made his clinical discoveries in the 1980s, they weren't considered even 'new hat'.
Because the food processors and manufacturers still had buying credibility with the gullible public. Not so today.
Food processors and manufacturers can no longer sell their trust image to the unquestioning, buying public.
However, the writer is still the first – and only - clinician to establish that soy/soya/soya beans induces 'AIDS-related' arthritis.

On your first reading, ignore all the links except those designated A-V.
Otherwise it will take you months, instead of a couple of hours, to finish it.

Author's Intro'

You've just downloaded some relatively powerful, clinically proven evidence, which conflicts with all the vacuous claptrap, disinformation, spin and good ole, denial marketing/ in-doc-trin-ay-ting bull$#!→€ with which you have been - and still are - bombarded by the self-serving media and snake oil salesmen from the manufactured food, health food, medical and pharmaceutical industries.

By eschewing manufactured food you will be doing more than just helping yourself.

You'll be reducing the tons of industrial pollution, mountains (and islands) of garbage packaging, which are dumped on our Planet, daily.

Even if your body is not exhibiting any crisis symptoms at present I would urge you, if you are 60 years or older, to practise my recommendations.

Your future well being is waiting for you right here.

(Author's Intro')

My son gave me this pithy piece of unwelcome advice – post-publication, naturally.

“No one will read your ebook,” so, this is especially beneficial for all you 'hyper-smart' Y-gens – who think that you know what life is all about - already.

After you buy it, file it away - only to be read when;

- your health has failed you,

- your mind has gone south

- and your take on reality is realising that for once you're actually in the 'loos when your mind believes you are having 'a moment'.

Then – and then only – is the right time to read this ebook.

Because, we oldsters – who've been Planet dwellers for a whole lot longer than you, generally talk way too much with mostly a load of unwelcomed, patronising b*ll$#*→€.

As I forever tell my kids -

“Don't learn the hard way – learn your way, instead.

It will make your life appear much longer and worthwhile,”

(Author's Intro')

Hi! My name is Louis lesCrooge.

I used to be a UK trained, registered optometrist and founder of The Softlens Practice of Soho in London.

Now I'm just a UK trained optometrist with free time.

During my 16 years with my Softlens Practice, I discovered that what and how we eat, radically affects our bodies' metabolisms, making them function with increased efficiency, like sports persons believe they do (obviously), but also with decreased efficiency like almost anyone else's does. (not so obviously).

This decreased efficiency, 'allegedly', leads to 'AIDS-related 'incurable' diseases,' some of which we relieved, cured and/or prevented, on a daily basis.

Read about it here.

The 'Cut out fags', the 'RSIs', 'Learn and Remember', 'Swimming without neck and back ache' stratagems in How To Avoid Being Stuffed With Stuff U Don't Want!

I developed to help me deal with life's little challenges and issues. They still do. They can do the same for you.

Have fun, because 'Life's a Bitch & then you diet!'

(Author's Intro')

Human beings are phenomenally sophisticated, living beings.

We share this unique distinction with the animals, the fishes, the birds, the reptiles, the plants and insects, as well as every other living organism my ignorance has failed to include here.

Today, medical science can - maybe - claim a 95% understanding of how our bodies function.

And today, we can begin to appreciate that medical science and its practitioners have;

EITHER just begun to grasp an understanding of the causes of how our bodies malfunction,

OR have been too busy making money out of our suffering to have bothered before.

At the moment, medical science has three modes of treatment.

The 'sledgehammer' (the pills)

The 'knife' (the obvious)

The 'agony' (the no-known-cure)

You've probably come to realise that there is not much to choose among them.

(Author's Intro')

All our bodies require of us is, simple, basic maintenance - as well as a tacit understanding not to over-indulge in self-abuse.

Or like any sensitive, intricate pieces of equipment, they will fall apart.

This falling apart is also known as a body crisis.

There is a large safety factor built into every aspect of our bodies, so this falling apart can take anything up to a lifetime. Be it a short lifetime, or a long one.

You are probably reading this because either you have, or someone you care about has, or is about to have a body crisis.

Never lose trust in;
your mind;
your body;
your experience;
your common sense;
your intuition;
your self.

Enjoy the rest of your life
- it might be the last one you remember.

(Author's Intro')

And never make the mistaken assumption that A-list Celebs think they know what they are doing. The majority of A-list Celebs are just like us – misguided, misinformed suckers who get swept along with the next A-list fad. However, our satisfaction comes from the realisation that they are front-line, A-list suckers.

So the next 'lean'n'mean' type diet book which has every A-lister, and their dog, raving, which catches your whim/fancy/eye - simply check out the list of 'amazing', 'high energy', super foods over which your 'wunda' nutritionist is drooling.

If there are any which I have listed in FOOD TO SERIOUSLY AVOID then the latest A-list, Celeb, Diet Messiah is a charlatan, who does not really know what he/she is talking about.

He/She can barely talk the talk – and that is where it evaporates – in a cloud of hot air.

(Author's Intro')

Being a healthily paranoid, hyper-suspicious, old cynic, my antennae are sensitive to the following words and phrases.

These are, but not limited to;

*'may (be or have)', 'might (be or have)',
'can (be or have)', 'could (be or have)',
or 'possibly (be or have)'.*

When you come across some revelatory article espousing the radical..., latest..., best..., of whatever, check out the high prevalence of these words.

These words mean that the only conclusive benefit connected to whatever is on offer, is the fat profit being skimmed, by your friendly 'fear, uncertainty and doubt' sales hustler.

There is a colossal body of evidence stacked against B-I-G Food, B-I-G Pharma and B-I-G Med.

The information gathered here barely scratches their surfaces.

Should you elect to ignore this body of evidence, in preference to the establishment spin and disinformation, then sometime soon you'll need to find yourself some other saviour.

Funny' links

It is to be regretted that most of the web-links in this ebook are hooked into one of my servers.

Regrettably - because they load slower than the originals and occasionally the display is pretty basic, or erratic.

Not so regrettably - 'cuz they will always be somewhere close at hand.

Since I started assembling this book ten years ago, I have lost so many juicily, revealing sites, simply because I was naive enough to believe that they would always be there.

Now what is left I can guarantee will be there!

There are links to some sites not on my servers.

Either they have disabled 'Save page as', or are constantly updating and it would be pointless to freeze them on my servers.

Here is a piece of advice you may have heard before.

Rely on no one.

Do as much for yourself as you are able.

Accept nothing to remain the same - because, only nothing remains the same.

How different is this ebook to what preceded it and what will it do for you?

At the outset, it was never my intention to write this book. I took early retirement (21st. Century euphemism for becoming unemployable), then one day realised that nowhere had I read of similar clinical experiences relating to the effects on human metabolism of manufactured and processed foods – far less one backed up by 35,000+ individual case studies.

For now, put aside the disclaimers - size does matter. And 35,000+ is a reasonable case load on which to base clinical pronouncements affecting - if not mankind – then a sizeable amount of UK residents.

So, how different is this to the books which preceded it? If you've read any of the books listed on the next page - which have influenced my work - then what you will get out of this one is an updated reinforcement of the same, but with a 35,000+ case study analysis on the tail, delivering the penultimate word on manufactured foods, processed foods and highly refined carbs (HRCs). (In case you haven't worked it out already, that penultimate word is N-O!)

In addition, this ebook ties together food and drug related health issues which wax, wane then finally drop off the radar, into the chaotic fog which is the 21st. Century mind. It is important to remember, f-o-r-e-v-e-r, just exactly what B-I-G - F-O-O-D, B-I-G - M-E-D and B-I-G - P-H-A-R-M-A are all about now, what they have been all about before, and the havoc and destruction they have wreaked on our societies and civilisation, in search of the BIGGER buck.

The following books have helped form my procedures to successfully resolve my patients' developing arthritis related, dry eye issues over 24 years.

- Diet for a small Planet 1st ed. F M Lappé
- Let's Get Well ((don't remember ed.) - - Adele Davis
- The Hay Diet - - - - - Various
- Food Combining for Health - - - - - Various
- Fit for Life 1st ed. - - - - - H & M Diamond
- Dr Atkins Diet Revolution 1st & last ed. - R C Atkins
- Praise of Folly 1st ed (if only) - - - - - Desiderius Erasmus

I have applied their principles to thousands of my patients and I would not be writing about their benefits had they not happened. (I can think of more constructive attractions, than making stuff up – artistic licence aside).

(How different is this ebook to what preceded it and what will it do for you?)

For most of us, our most precious commodities are our time and our health.

My information and instructions will save you:

- * Wasting your valuable time and effort searching for, and reading books you hope will help resolve your condition;
- * Wasting your valuable money buying the books you hope will help resolve your condition;
- * Saving you the grief of discovering that none of these books explain what you really need to know to help you resolve etc., etc.

If you think that my information is in any way, inappropriate, then remember this.

Arthritis, Arthritis induced Dry Eyes, Arthritis induced Dry Eyes Syndrome, and Arthritis induced Sjögren's Syndrome, are now firmly classified in the AIDS group of 'untreatable diseases', along with Multiple Sclerosis, Parkinsons, Alzheimers, Motor Neurone Disease, as well as a number of other terrifying dementias and muscle wasting conditions.

(How different is this ebook to what preceded it and what will it do for you?)

All these are conveniently included in Government and Venture Capital funded AIDS Research Foundation Charitable 'non-profit making' Trusts, currently awaiting phenomenally overpriced, 'tried and tested', or 'cutting edge', drugs.

Any idea why so many long-standing, established ('but incurable') diseases are now AIDS-related?

Perhaps that is where the colossal Government and Venture Capitalist funding into AIDS research lies.

Or, perhaps I'm just a green-eyed, sore loser, conspiracy junk-head, with 35,000+ clinical case studies to my name. The time served adage, 'Always follow the money - it invariably leads to the truth', has yet to fail.

You may believe that none of the following metabolic crises apply to you - at the moment.

Bear in mind that these 'AIDS-related degenerative conditions' are cumulative and spreading like a wildfire.

You are at risk, whether you believe me or not!

Unless you make radical changes to your lifestyle, no one is going to help, unless you help yourself - first.

(How different is this ebook to what preceded it and what will it do for you?)

On the other hand, if you are a die-hard believer in 'Modern Medical Miracles' then don't allow my cynicism, and/or clinical experience to come between you, your money and your beliefs.

Save your time and your effort and stop reading now then do your good deed for the day and give this book to someone whom you feel might appreciate it.

Cutting edge is a term, which implies (rather than means) that it's too early to say if 'whatever they are selling you' will actually cure you without inducing some other condition in your body, which will make you worse off than before - health-wise probably - financial-wise, definitely. But it is available now and only through restricted outlets - for everyone who can afford it.'

Scream, "Cartel!" Scream, "Monopoly!"

It won't make any difference.

The drug companies and their 'in-their-pocket Governments' won't register your protestations.

All they care about is money - everybody's and anybody's! And buckets of it.

A Fundamental Truth

Over the millennia, misogynistic, religious zealots (RZs)*, have hijacked and redefined the meanings and usage of words to suit their repressive purposes.

They still do, even today.

'Fundamental', is another of them there hijacked words.

One dictionary definition reads,

'being an original or primary source,' another, 'forming the base, from which everything else develops,' yet another, 'serving as, or being an essential part of.'

You are reading this probably because either you have, or are about to have, or someone you care about has, or is about to have - a body crisis.

A body crisis means part, or parts of your/his/her body are not responding properly/doing funny things/over reacting/falling apart/falling off/dying off.

Call it any specific medical name you like, at then end of the day it's a body crisis.

And your, or their, unshakable faith in the powers of the doctors, the medicines and the pharmaceuticals, has been shaken on a scale which you could never have imagined.

* I don't use the prefix 'quasi-' as all RZs are deemed' quasi-.

(A Fundamental Truth)

Not only have these aforementioned purveyors of good health failed to cure your condition, they have also failed to alleviate your symptoms and your suffering.

Additionally, you probably feel threatened and insecure by their relentless greed, general disinterest and/ or their hollow promises for tomorrow.

corporate and legal resistance to UK beneficial ownership register proposal

From my 16 years of clinical experience with 35,000+ contact lens patients as well as a further 12 years domiciliary field experience with the elderly housebound, this is what I know. There is no mystery.

However, there are some pretty dark secrets, along with plenty of smoke and mirrors.

In our individual ways, we are all ever so slightly weird. Although we are made from the same bits, we are all put together ever so slightly different.

When we start growing - and it starts in the womb - is when we all start becoming ever so slightly weird;

(A Fundamental Truth)

- so some of us have more resistance to specific ailments and conditions than others have;
- some of us have genetically acquired susceptibilities to specific ailments and conditions, which others don't;
- although we all appear basically the same and we all function basically the same, we are all complexly and metabolically different with these specific resistances and susceptibilities which still allow us to be grouped together.

If you think that sounds 'too conveniently' far-fetched, consider why life assurance companies use this argument to cancel, or refuse life cover to persons with historical, genetic susceptibilities to HI-risk, terminal illness.

Now, what entity, or entities do you think, could cause the greatest 'pandemics' in the history of mankind yet no wizard research foundation has managed to reveal, either their secrets, or their identities:

Or their secret identities, even?

There are millions of sufferers across our planet with variations on these terrible, debilitating conditions.

(A Fundamental Truth)

Take a moment to reflect on the slim possibility that their might be a common factor linking them.

It might be AIDS.

It might be aliens.

It might be pandemic infections.

It might be viral invasions, from who knows where.

Or it might even be a combination of the lot of them.

Based on my 16 years clinical observations of 35,000+ pairs of softlens wearers' eyes and twelve years attending the elderly house-bound through my domiciliary visits, I know the answer is simpler and much closer to home.

Five crucial skills to protect your health

The 11 Most Destructive Nutrition Lies Ever Told

Have you any idea why it is that millions of human beings become afflicted with Dry Eyes, Arthritis, Dementia, Skin Problems and Food Intolerances - yet others, never?

(The last one is the clue.)

What do you think those who escape the clutches of arthritis and its associated conditions can be doing, that those who develop them aren't doing?

(A Fundamental Truth)

Do you think that there is a common factor connecting Arthritis and all the other 'incurable diseases' afflicting mankind, some of which medical science has not had the time to get around to finding a name for, yet?

I ask you this - merely because - over at the Government and Joint Venture Capital funded AIDS Research Foundation Charitable 'Non-Profit-Making' Trusts (now there's a quixotic hybrid of a beast), they - the cream of medical research, foundation fellows, appear to believe in this common factor, too.

They have grouped all these medically mystifying diseases under the BIG U (for umbrella) of AIDS, which coincidentally, just happens to be where all the juicy Government and venture capital research funding is.

Whether that common factor is to pay themselves fat salaries for the rest of their lives, or at least while the massive funding rolls in, is an open question.

(A Fundamental Truth)

However, there are 60+, and rising, 'medically mystifying' incurable diseases' already attributed to AIDS.

It might be pushing the limits of belief beyond credibility.

You used to be able to count them at rightdiagnosis.com but as history is being rewritten to be 'more coherent' – you couldn't - the last time I checked.

Where was I? Ah yes! Fundamental common factors, the fundamentals of which, are;

- the purity of water we drink;

- the purity of air we breathe;

- the purity of food which we eat;

- as well as the genetic susceptibilities mentioned above.

Purchasing an air purifier/sterilizer (and/or a respirator if you live in a zone of high air toxicity), as well as a water filter of some kind, are not extreme measures.

Some extremely sick people live in areas where the air is heavily polluted and the water is recycled.

I know. I have attended them in their homes.

World Health Organisation: Air pollution 'is single biggest environmental health risk'

(A-V)

Eagle-Research: fuel saving money saving Planet saving

(A Fundamental Truth)

Now, more or less everyone living in the same area drinks the same water and breathes the same air.

Unless everyone in the same area is being afflicted with the same diseases and debilitating body conditions we can discount the air and the water as major source causes - for the moment.

The third common factor is your genetic susceptibilities, and predispositions, which are traceable, so you would know, or at the least be able to find out if they were a contributing cause to your condition.

The last factor is unaccountable and variable.

This is the unnatural amount of garbage, toxins and plain-old poisons contained in the manufactured and processed/refined foodstuffs and lotions you consume.

You can't do much about your genetically acquired susceptibilities/ predispositions, but you can do some thing about the amount of toxins contained, but not listed, in the manufactured/processed/refined (and let's not delude ourselves) – crap which we all eat and which we all apply to our bodies.

(A Fundamental Truth)

Western civilization has lost the plot when it comes to caring and looking after ourselves and others.

The caring and looking after is now a third party responsibility. How illogical is that?

It is not too late to take some time out to reflect on the logic of this new style, behaviour. Simply because, no one can look after you, or care for you, like you can.

By accepting all the spin and in-doc-trin-ay-shun about fast and manufactured foods, you have given that responsibility and trust to other third parties.

Now take a long, objective, dispassionate look at the effects this has had on your body.

There can be a large safety factor built into every aspect of our bodies, so this falling apart can take any time up to a lifetime - be it a short lifetime, or a long one.

In order to take advantage of the benefits which my advice will bring to your life, what you are about to read about - then apply - requires self-discipline.

Many of us have self-discipline – many of us don't.

You, or he/she, either know this, or must decide whether to be one of the haves, or one of the haven'ts.

(A Fundamental Truth)

If you haven't worked out why the mysterious sources of these personal body conditions - they are not diseases - have not yet been publicly identified, then consider the colossal losses the food and drug industries would sustain if we all ate better, and looked after ourselves better. Manufactured, processed and/or refined foodstuffs are not nutritious - despite what the labels claim. (The Jesuitical labelling kicker is all in the title - F-O-O-D-S-T-U-F-F-S is not food.)

Incompatible foods slow down your digestion and metabolism as it attempts to assimilate their incompatible natures; the catalogue of poisons contained in manufactured, processed foodstuffs as well as highly refined carbs, simply finish you off.

This just doesn't apply to sufferers of all those conditions I have listed already, or expanded upon later.

This applies to E-V-E-R-Y-B-O-D-Y !
